Use NON-FOOD REWARDS

Alternatives to food as a reward
Younger students can:
• Share a special item or talent with the class.
• Be “Super Kid of the Day”, or “Star of the Day.”
• Sit in a special seat during snack time or lunch.
• Be recognized in a newsletter or on a bulletin board.
• Be given an important responsibility, such as helping teach the class or reading the morning announcements.
• Receive a compliment from the other kids in the classroom.
• Receive a positive note from the principal, teacher, or have one sent home for parents to see.
• Get a signed t-shirt, Frisbee, or ball.
• Lead out on group activities.
• Receive coupons with special privileges.
• Attend a reading party (kids bring blankets to sit on and read favorite books).
• Read a favorite poem.
• Share a favorite picture of a family member or friend.
• Play a favorite game or puzzle.
• Eat lunch outdoors or have a picnic.
• Eat lunch/take a walk with the principal or a favorite teacher.
• Get access to items that can only be used on special occasions (e.g. special art supplies, toys, or games).
• Get a trip to a treasure chest full of small, non-food items (e.g. bubbles, crayons, finger puppets, Slinkys, yo-yos, rubber balls, spinning tops, stickers, school supplies, etc.).
• Get a monthly indoor or outdoor physical activity event to celebrate accomplishments or birthdays.
• Make a list of fun, non-food rewards and get to choose a reward from the list when appropriate.
• Dance to favorite music.
• Schedule a field trip.
• Read the kids’ favorite book.
• Get extra or longer free time.
• Get extra outdoor activities.
• Receive a trophy or ribbon.

For any age student, don’t underestimate the power of using verbal praise that is specific. For example, “You did a great job, John. I’m so proud of you for helping Jack with his math problems today.”

To support your efforts, help to create a district-wide policy that prohibits the use of food as a reward.

Benefits of providing non-food rewards:
• Creates an environment that fosters healthy eating and supports the 5-2-1-0 message.
• Allows the opportunity for more frequent rewards.
• Adds to fitness if physical activity is used as reward.
